MIDDLE SCHOOL STUDENT ON TV

On January 4, KION TV interviewed 8th grader Kameron Struer about a book he's published, called "Simon the Snowball." The book tells about the adventures of a snowball as it explores the world, and teaches children about the different forms of water. Now Cameron is using the sales of his book to help raise money for the Monterey County SPCA. For each $8 copy he sells, he's donating one quarter of the proceeds to them. "I love animals," he says. "People should help them, and I'm doing my part."

MIDDLE SCHOOL AWARD WINNER

Eighth grader Laurie Warfield was a winner in the 2011 Bookshop Santa Cruz Young Writers Contest, and she just received her copy of the anthology that includes her short story. Her title is "Skywarrior," and she describes it as a fantasy action/adventure story about demons who escape from a prison and have to fight. She says she likes to read a lot, and to write, so she decided to enter the contest, and won second place in the Age 10-13 Division.
