"You will not find your identity in what you have, but in who has you. You will not find your identity in what you do, but in what has been done for you. And you will not find your identity in what you desire, but in who has desired—at infinite cost to Himself—a relationship with you. Christ is your life."

-Robert Lomas

"Sometimes a dream almost whispers... it never shouts. Very hard to hear. So you have to, every day of your lives, be ready to hear what whispers in your ear."

- Steven Spielberg
